VARIETIES .- Fitzsimmons revives the play of "Uncle Tom's Cabin." The cast of characters is a good one, and the play will be produced with proper costumes, scenery and appointments. Among the performers are Lettie Chandler, Fannie May, Maggie Vernon, Isa-bella Graham, Annie Ellmore, Harry Francis, Bob Hall, and others. There will also be a Concert hall entertainment.

CANTERBURY.—A number of new acts, songs, dances and burlesques, are announced for the present week at Canterbury Hall. Sallie Sunderland. Agnes Sutherland, Mulligan, West, Williams, and all of the old favorites remain.

A grand floral divertisement, arranged by Mons. Szollosy, and entitled the "Garden of Pleasure," will be performed to-night; as will also a new burlesque entitled "The Youth who Never Saw a Woman."

Pic-Nics.—Another of those delightful pic-nics which the Odd Fellows' fraternity know so well how to get up and conduct, will be given this afternoon and evening at Beckert's Garden, near the Navy Yard. This pic-nic will be under the special control of Metropolis Lodge, and all desiring to participate may be assured of much enjoyment. At Loeffler's Garden the Young United Club also give a pic-nic this afternoon and evening, and it will no doubt we well attended.

A COLORED PREACHER SENT TO JAIL ON A CHARGE OF GRAND LARCENY .- Saturday afternoon Dan'l A. Watts, a colored preacher, was brought to this city from Baltimore, and delivered to Superintendent Webb to be examined on a charge of stealing over $300 from Sam'l Payne, col, who lives on New York avenue, between 3d and 4th streets. Yesterday the case was heard before Justice Miller when it appeared in the evidence that Watts has been in the habit of stopping at Payne's house when in this city, and was there a few days before and up to the day upon which the robbery was discovered—last Monday. There were two colored soldiers who Watts claimed were his nephews. He visited them, and on Saturday they visited him by appoint ment, at Payne's house. Sunday night, Watts went to a room, not intended for his occupancy, in Payne's house, and the money stolen was in this room, in a pocket-book and a purse, which were placed in a box or drawer. Late at night Payne heard some one walking in that room, and went to ascertain who was there and what was the matter, but seeing Watts in the room, he suspected nothing wrong, and returned to his bed. The next morning it was discovered that the money was gone. Watts told Mrs. Payne that he had borrowed $1.50 from a neighbor to go to Baltimore, not having the money. He also asked Payne for a bottle of liquor to take with him, pretending to be unwell. Payne got the liquor and paid for it. A colored detective was informed of the circumstances connected with the robbery, and was despatched to Baltimore to arrest Watts for aiding deserters to escape, who arrested him and one of the deserters, the other escaped. When Watts was searched in Raltimore, he had on his person a new suit of clothes, a silver watch, and $103 in money, had also purchased a pair of pants for the deserter. There he stated that he had owned the clothes for sometime, and the watch since May last, which was shown to be false. After hearing the evidence, Justice Miller demanded $500 bail for Watts appearance at the criminal court, and in default sent him to jail. The Metropolitan Detectives were not notified. of the robbery until after the arrest and the party was sent here for trial. Had they been notified when the robbery was discovered, the character of the evidence might have been more satisfactory. POLICE REPORTS-Second Precinct .- John Gordon, stealing; military. John Monahan, drunk; do. Amanda Colison, disorderly; $1.58. Henry Willice, do .; $3. Lewis Johnson, do. price of gas is to be raised in Philadelphia on the 1st of September, 1864, to $3 per thousand cubic feet. Two years ago it was only $2, being an increase of fifty per cent. The coal there, in the shed at the gas works, costs less than $10 per long ton-a contract for 100,000 tons having been made last spring. In Washington the average price of gas, as fixed by Congress in 1862, is only $2.62 per thousand feet, though coal, we learn, costs, in the shed, about $14 per ton. In New York the price of gas furnished to the street lamps is to be raised on the same day to $50 per annum for each lamp. It has heretofore been only $25, which is about the cost in Washington.

The consumers here can congratulate themselves upon cheap light, at least, gas being seventeen per cent. less than at the commencement of the war. The company appealed to Congress last session to allow them to charge 83, but were unsuccessful, and as a consequence failed to pay any dividend in January and July, and the stock, which was worth, four years ago, $25 per share in gold, is now offered at $18 in currency, and no purchasers. It would appear that, in common justice, the company should not be required to furnish gas at an actual loss, under a compulsory law of GAMBLERS ARRESTED .- Sunday mora ing about 4 o'clock, officers Harbaugh and Renneker, of the Third Ward, made a descent upon a house kept by Wm. Turner, in the square bounded by 9th and 10th, and M and N streets north, and captured the proprietor and Wm. Groves, Henry Clark, and C. Flamester, who were passing the night in garabling, and Geo. Boston, who was sitting in the room asleep. The stakes upon the table did not amount to a large sum, but the gamblers were evidently very much interested in the contest for it, as the officers came upon them before it could be removed. They were taken before Justice Giberson, who dismissed Boston, fined Turner $10.71, and each of other, $5.71. The arrest, may have a good effect in that locality.

FOURTH WARD STATION CASES .- Maurice Sullivan, creating nuisance; $1.50. Henry Hogg, wagon unlicensed; dismissed. Wm. Wright, having a stolen; jail for hearing. Bridget Mulquin, threats; bail for peace. Also, furnishing liquor to soldiers; dismissed. John Fitzgerald, selling liquor unlicensed; $20.71. Wm. Parker, assault and battery, intent to kill: jail for court. John Goggin, drunk; $1.58. J. Kenny, do. and disorderly: $258. Dan'l Don-oughey, do.; dismissed. M. Hays, drunk; $1.50. Jas. Kenney, do.; $1.58. David Harris, do.; 81.15. M. Feany and James Geary, disorderly; military.

AN END TO SUNDAY EXCURSIONS .- We are pleased to learn that Mr. J. B. Hutchinson, president of the Washington and Alexandria Steam Ferry Company, has signified, in a letter to Mayor Ware, his regret at the unfortu-nate affair which occurred down the river last Sunday, and that Sunday, and that he has given directions that no boat of the company can again be chartered on the Sabbath except as a military necessity when required by the Government. We hope that this information is gratifying to the entire community .- Alex. Journal, Aug. 20th.

Going Home. The 169th regiment Ohio National Guard. (one hundred day men.) under command of Colonel Haines, passed down the avenue this morning, on their way home, their time having expired. The regiment has been stationed at Fort Ethan Allen.

CAMP MEETING, SHIPLEY'S WOODS, ANNE
ARUNDEL CO., MD., Aug. 21, 1864.—Editor Star:
As many of the Star. As many of the Star's readers have friends here, I have no doubt that it will be gratifying to them to knew what is going on. The camp is on the same ground used last year, and near it there are two fine springs, and the place is easy of access to the railroad, there being a fine road from Jassen's Court five miles. from Jessup's Cut of about five miles, and another road not so good from Hanover Switch about three miles.

Our company from McKendree Chapel numbering about forty, which has already been increased by additional arrivals and which we expect will be much larger before the meeting is over—arrived on the ground about ten o'cl'k on Friday morning safe and sound—and in a short time we had our Sibley tents erected and fixed for a comfortable stay until next Friday, when the meeting is to close.

The meeting is very respectable in the number and size of the tents on the ground, many of them being very large, and as wood is a more natural production of the soil than cotton. which is so enormously high, the former material is used to a great extent. There are over sixty tents in the circle, but as we have not yet been blessed with a bright day, we have but little idea as to how our village under the canopy of heaven will look in the sunlight, which we hope will soon dawn upon us.

Rev. E. P. Phelps, Presiding Elder of Wash. ington District, is here, and presiding over the meeting. I have been for several years at camp meetings under different presiding elders, but I never saw a man better fitted for the position than he, and I am satisfied that, with such a presiding officer, good order will pre-

The following ministers are on the platform Revs. T. T. Wysong, in charge of the circuit of Elkridge Landing; N. J. B. Morgan, P. E of Baltimore district; John Thrush, of McKendree; Clem, Largent, McDaniel, Knowles, Swope, Loan, and Shreck.

On Friday the sound of the hammer and ax was heard continually, but in the evening we topped off our manual labor and exercises at the tents with a very spirited prayer and experience meeting. Yesterday passed in social intercourse, and in the afternoon a prayer meeting was held. At 7 % o'clock the horn was blown, for the first time, at the stand—the signal for preaching-and notwithstanding the darkness of the woods and seats, and a mist falling at the time, a good sized congregation

The exercises were opened by Rev. John Thrush, who gave out the familiar hymn "Come Holy Spirit, Heavenly dove," the singing of which gave evidence that the congregation were ready for the exercises; and offered a fervent prayer well suited to the opening of a camp-meeting. He then preached from the words "Grow in grace," (2d Peter, 3d chap, and part of the 18th verse,) dwelling on the doctrine of works, and arguing that the inevitable law of grace was growth, without which the Christian must die a spiritual death. The sermon was listened to with marked attention, and without doubt it had its effect on the audience. Mr. Shreck closed with a fervent exortation, which closed the day's services, all retiring quietly to rest. There was none of that rowdyism which usually takes place the night preceding the Sabbath

The Sabbath opened gloomy and unpropi-tious, the sun still being behind the clouds; but despite the appearances, at an early hour large numbers in wagons and on horse-back soon found their way to the ground, and the trains from Baltimore and Washington brought out a number, but not near as many as would have come had the day been bright. A light shower of rain falling about nine o'clock, the services at the stand were dispensed with, and in lieu thereof a prayer meeting was held in the large tent from Baltimore City Station. At 11 o'clock, the rain having ceased, the horn was again blown at the stand, and a large congregation assembled, and a sermon was preached by Rev. E. P. Phelps, on the mercies of God, from Romans, chapter 9th, 15th to 18th verses, of which it is unnecessary for me to speak, as your readers well know that he always preaches with effect, and on this occasion the attention of the audience was enchained for over one hour, the most perfect stillness prevailing thoughout its delivery.
